

2023 EARS-Net EQA webtool user guide

⇒ Browser requirements

IMPORTANT: The system works with the following browsers

Browser	Oldest supported version*
Google Chrome	44.0

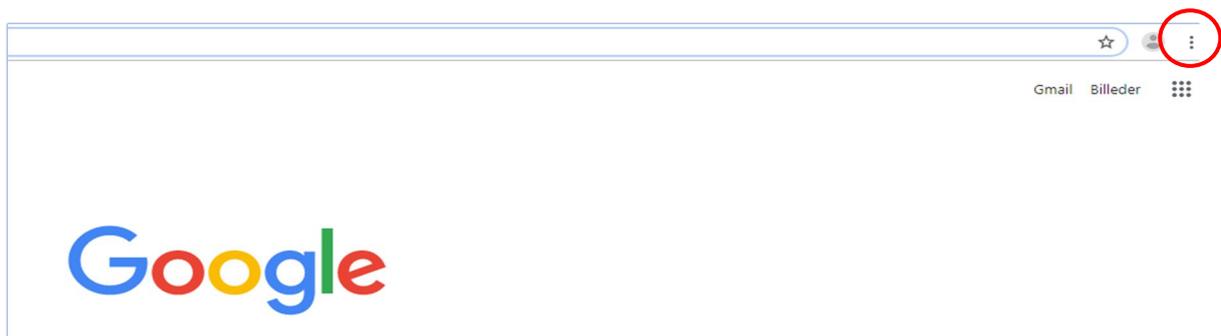

* latest version is recommended

⇒ Access the webtool

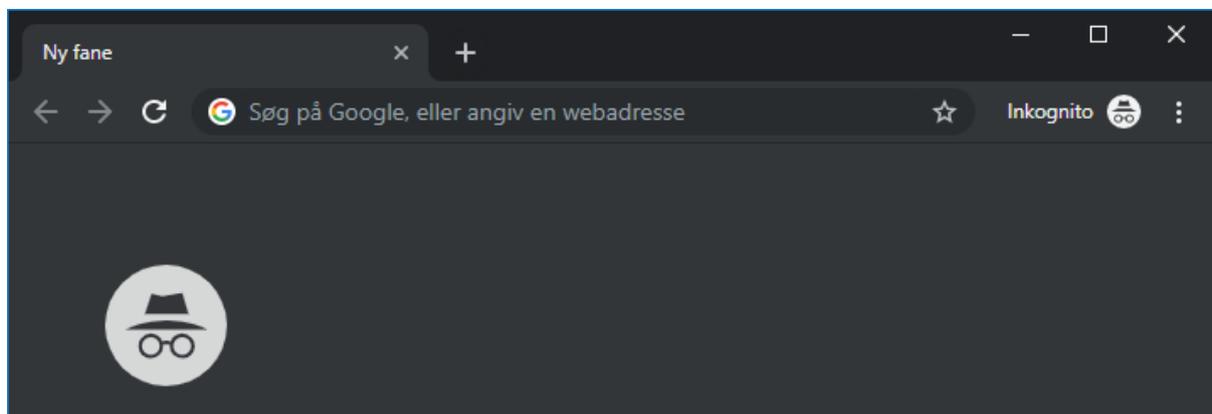

IMPORTANT: To access the webtool, you must use an incognito window.

NOTE: Should you have issues with requesting an incognito window, please contact the EARS-Net EQA Coordinator (earsnet-eqa@food.dtu.dk).

Open a browser window using Google Chrome and click on the three dots (see red circle below) and select: 'New incognito window'.

Continue in the black window that looks like this (beware that you can only have ONE incognito window open at the time).

Access the webtool using this address: <https://earsnet.eqa.dtu.dk>

Select: DTU Employees Students and guest

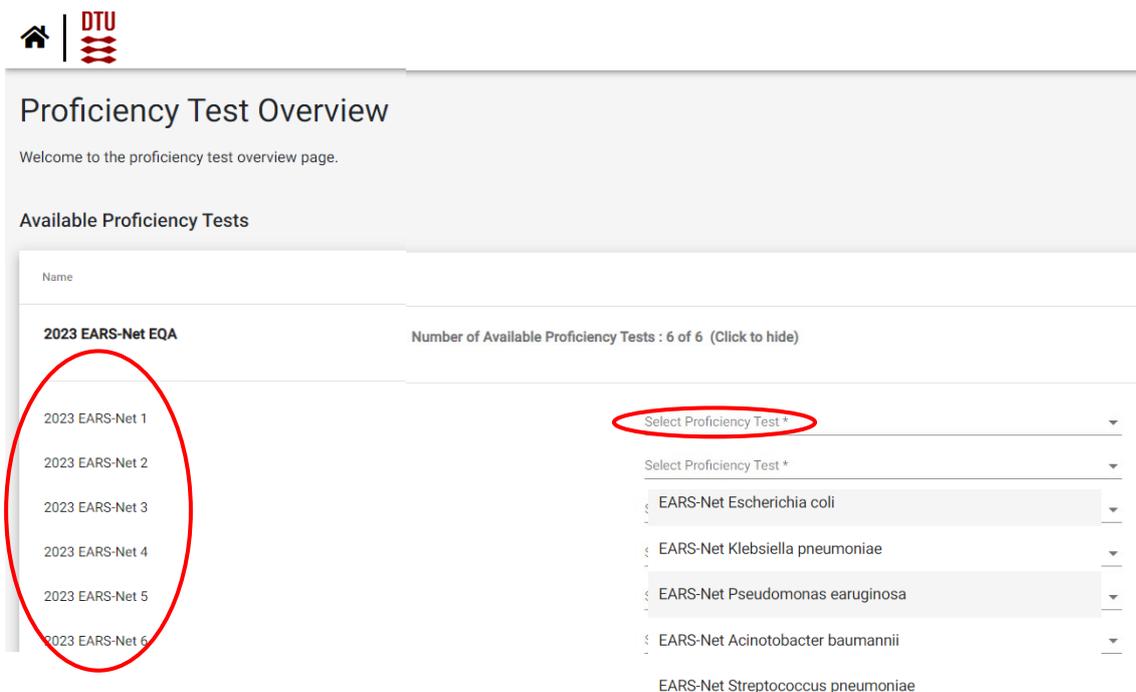

Login to the system by using the username and password sent to you by e-mail for participation in the EARS-Net EQA.

After signing in you will get to the Proficiency Test Overview page.

⇒ Signup

Under 'Available Proficiency Tests', you can see the six ID numbers for the strains you have received.

For each strain, select the proficiency test with the species identification.

Please sign up for each of the proficiency tests. Proficiency tests you signed up for will then be listed under 'Active Proficiency Tests'.

To return to the Proficiency Test Overview page click on the DTU logo in the upper left corner.

If the test strains under available proficiency tests cannot be seen on the screen, please click on the 'Number of available Proficiency Tests (Click to show)' to expand the information.

If the test strains under active proficiency tests cannot be seen on the screen, please click on the 'Number of Active Proficiency Tests (Click to show)' to expand the information.

If the test strains under previous proficiency tests cannot be seen on the screen, please click on 'Number of Previous Proficiency Tests (Click to show)' to expand the information.

The page is divided into three main sections, each with a table of proficiency tests:

- Available Proficiency Tests: The table has one row for '2023 EARS-Net EQA'. The cell for the number of tests is circled in red and contains the text 'Number of Available Proficiency Tests : 4 of 6 (Click to show)'. The table footer shows 'Items per page: 15' and '1 - 1 of 1'.
- Active Proficiency Tests: The table has one row for '2023 EARS-Net EQA'. The cell for the number of tests is circled in red and contains the text 'Number of Active Proficiency Tests : 2 of 6 (Click to show)'. The table footer shows 'Items per page: 15' and '0 of 0'.
- Previous Proficiency Tests: The table has one row for 'EARS-Net 2021'. The cell for the number of tests is circled in red and contains the text 'Number of Previous Proficiency Tests : 2 of 2 (Click to show)'. The table footer shows 'Items per page: 15' and '0 of 0'.

⇒ Enter data

To navigate between tabs for a specific proficiency test click on the tabs.

The screenshot shows the '2023 EARS-Net 1' interface. At the top, there is a header with the lab number 'xx0d1', a 'Final submit' button, a 'Download report' button, and a notification: 'Last day for PT submission: Jun 10, 2023, 08:00'. A 'Support' dropdown menu is also visible. Below this, a pink box contains the text: 'Data pending to allow for final submit (click to expand)'. The 'Method' tab is selected and circled in red, showing the species name 'Pseudomonas aeruginosa'. Below the tabs, there is a 'Method questions' section with a 'Save' button on the right. The first question is: '1. Which methodology did you mainly use for antimicrobial susceptibility testing (AST) of this strain?' with a 'Select *' dropdown menu.

Under the 'Method' tab answer all the questions. You will not be able to submit data unless all questions have been answered.

Under the tap with the species name select operator, type the MIC value or zone diameter and select interpretation (R, I or S).

- R: Resistant (considering the breakpoint indicated in the EUCAST breakpoint tables)
- I: Susceptible, increased exposure (considering the breakpoint indicated in EUCAST breakpoint tables)
- S: Susceptible, standard dosing regimen (considering the breakpoint indicated in the EUCAST breakpoint tables)
- Leave the field blank or choose N/A if you have no result for the given antimicrobial/test strain combination (this option should be used if you for example did not test for an antimicrobial).

Data are saved when you click the save button placed at the bottom left side of the screen or the top right side of the page.

Moreover, data are saved when you navigate between the tabs.

⇒ Review and revise data

On the Proficiency Test Overview page click 'Download report' for each proficiency test to download a report with your entered results.

Upon final submission of data for a proficiency test, the contact person(s) of the laboratory will receive an e-mail confirming the submission, and a report with the submitted results and method information will be attached. The report can also be downloaded from the webtool. Please wait a few minutes before you download the report to allow for the database to make the updates. Should the downloaded report not contain all expected results, please wait 10 minutes before you download it again. If you still cannot see all the expected results, please contact the EARS-Net EQA coordinator at earsnet-eqa@food.dtu.dk.

⇒ Evaluation and score

After the submission deadline, results submitted to the webtool are evaluated and the contact person(s) for your laboratory will receive an email with information how to download the evaluation reports from the EARS-Net EQA webtool when the scores are released.

⇒ Support

Should you need support in using the webtool, please do not hesitate to contact the EARS-Net EQA Coordinator (earsnet-eqa@food.dtu.dk).

Under 'support' in the top right corner of the webtool find contact information for the EARS-Net EQA organizer, a link to the EARS-Net EQA website where you can find the protocol and test forms, and the guideline to the webtool.
